

ACT VIII Prepares for "Sexy Season"

22 August 2008

ACT has embarked on its first-ever themed season with three plays to appeal to our prurient interests. "Not Now, Darling" by Ray Cooney and John Chapman, is a fun and furious British sex farce featuring mistaken identities and scantily-clad ladies. It opens in October and is part of the Aylmer Performing Arts Council season. "Bedtime Stories" by Aylmer's favourite playwright, Norm Foster, follows the lives of a series of characters as they hilariously negotiate the maze of modern sexual relationships. It can be seen in February 2009 and will be our entry into the WODL Festival. May 2009 brings us "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers" by Broadway veteran Neil Simon. Middle-aged nebbish Barney Cashman wants to join the sexual revolution before it's too late and attempts three seductions with hysterical results.

Our patrons now have the opportunity to see all three shows at a 20% discount when they take advantage of our new subscription offer, available until October 25. They make great gifts, too. For more information, click on "Subscribe!"

ACT's latest murder mystery, "Death Rides an Electro Glide", debuts at Cy's Lanes and Lounge on September 6, with another performance at the Aylmer Legion on November 1. Only $25 gets you a fine meal and our motorcycle-themed comedy whodunnit.
